

88mph breaks silence, announces investment in flight booking app

By Graham van der Made

17 Feb 2017

Investment company 88mph, has announced its investment in Ahoy, a flight booking and management app for small businesses. The announcement came via a post on LinkedIn, written by 88mph founder, Kresten Buch.

In the announcement, Buch states that 88mph had trouble over the past few years when travelling around Africa. These issues came from problems with travel agents, flight changes and cancellations, and fraud flagging, among others.

Continue reading the full article on Ventureburn.com.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>