

CapaCiTi, Wesgro invite companies to apply for access to digital skills

CapaCiTi, the tech education arm of the Cape Innovation and Technology Initiative, and Wesgro are in the process of concluding an investment of R200 million to train and place 2500 people in ICT jobs between 2018 and 2020.

The organisations are inviting companies across the country to apply for access to this pool of professionals by completing this form by Wednesday, 6 September 2017.

Why apply?

1. Applicants will be given priority access to this graduate pool
2. By expressing your skills needs you ensure that these are included as a starting point for discussions around the programme design
3. Your responses will provide critical data around the trends and scale of the current tech skills demand
