

SA to help Angolan media

The SA ambassador to Angola, Tony Msimanga, said on Tuesday after visiting the Journalists Training Centre in Angola that the SA Government will be helping the development of the media industry in SADC countries by co-operating in the fields of technology and the training of media staff.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>