

Autonomous Republic re-appoints Sancia Dos Santos 'Delpont as creative executive director

Digital services and marketing agency Autonomous Republic sees the return of Sancia Dos Santos 'Delpont as its new creative executive director, after four-years of heading up the digital, content and creative team in an EMEA public relations agency. She brings extensive experience and expertise in digital services and marketing, having worked curated and implemented holistic brand, social media and digital campaigns across EMEA markets.

In her role at Autonomous Republic, Sancia will focus on strategy and advisory in both B2B and B2C markets. With her experience working in local and international markets, she will provide valuable guidance and knowledge to clients in the agency's portfolio. Her goal is to make a positive impact on the agency landscape and deliver honesty and value that align with clients' objectives. Sancia is excited to step back into the role and work with the talented team and agency that prioritises truth and honesty in their craft.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>