

DQ&A's Online Tuesday #7 discusses Augmented Reality

The seventh installment of "Online Tuesday", themed 'It's an Augmented World', will take place in Cape Town and Johannesburg next month. The event is presented by DQ&A Media Group and series partners, Initiate International and Zomato.

While the Cape Town event on 11 October is fully booked, free tickets to the Johannesburg event on 18 October are still available. Click here to book tickets.

Presenting in Cape Town at Shimmy Beach Club

Guests and presenters in the Mother City are as follows: Johan Walters, from Clicks2Customers' Innovation hub will discuss developments in AR and VR that go way beyond the realms of Pokémon Go.

Werner Uys, managing director at Lucan – a design, animation and film studio in Cape Town, will co-present with his creative director, Wian van Bergen, on the topic of VRs integration into traditional workflows.

And then, of course, for some added humour and oomph to the evening, local comedian and Good Hope FM sports presenter, Dalin Oliver, will MC affairs.

Presenting in Joburg at Radisson Blu Gautrain

© Wren Handman via Fxabay

C2Cs' Johan Walters will once again headline proceedings, supported by Bryan Nelson and Lorraine Landon, industry head and head of agencies at Google South Africa respectively.

Johannesburg-based stand-up comedian, actor and director, Glen Biderman-Pam, will be MC.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>