

SA's top logistics company announced

Imperial Logistics has been awarded the National Logistics Award 2008 at the National Business Awards' gala event on May 28th. The event was hosted by Topco Media in association with their annual publication, SA's Top Performing Companies, and was attended by 600 representatives from government, business and industry. The National Logistics Award is one of 15 business accolades that celebrate excellence in business in various categories and industries. For more information about the awards and category winners, go to itinews.co.za

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>