

Private sector conference to tackle HIV/AIDS issues in Jozi

The South African Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS (SABCOHA), in partnership with Business Unity South Africa (BUSA), is hosting the first South African HIV/AIDS conference dedicated to enabling the private sector to 'take its response to HIV to the next level' at Gallagher Estate, Midrand, 5-7 April 2006.

The three-day programme consists of eight interactive debates focusing on difficult and controversial issues related to HIV and AIDS, including medical AIDS and HIV; SMMEs (small, micro and medium size enterprises) and HIV; research; the impact of mass media campaigns; and HIV impeding South Africa's economic growth.

High-level presenters and facilitators include Judge Edwin Cameron, Jonny Broomberg from Discovery Health, and Mark Heywood from the AIDS Law Project. Debate topics

Attendance will cost R3 500.
