

High court pushes back Zuma corruption hearing

By Alexander Winning

10 Sep 2021

A South African court pushed back a hearing scheduled for Thursday in the corruption trial of former president Jacob Zuma linked to a 1990s arms deal to 21 - 22 September 2021.

Former South African President Jacob Zuma speaks to supporters after appearing at the High Court in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, 17 May 2021. Reuters/Rogan Ward/File Photo

The 12-day postponement was agreed between Zuma's lawyers and prosecutors and granted by Judge Piet Koen at the Pietermaritzburg High Court.

It is the latest in a series of delays in the long-running case, in which 79-year-old Zuma faces multiple charges including corruption, racketeering and money laundering over the weapons contract over which he allegedly received kickbacks.

Zuma was jailed for 15 months in July for defying a constitutional court order to appear at a separate inquiry into corruption during his scandal-plagued time in office.

He is currently in hospital, however, after the government said on Sunday he had been placed on medical parole for an undisclosed condition.

Zuma released on medical parole

Nqobile Dladla 6 Sep 2021

Zuma, in power from 2009 until 2018, denies wrongdoing and has pleaded not guilty to all charges against him.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Reporting by Alexander Winning; Editing by John Stonestreet

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>