

Hassle-free flying an SMS away

This festive season, flight details and up-to-the-minute departure and arrival times are but an SMS away. Contemporary mobile download service provider NXT Mobile and the Airport Company of SA (ACSA) have teamed up in an effort to make travelling to and from South African airports easier, thanks to a service called NXT Flights.

By SMSing the required flight number to 35007, users will receive a reply SMS containing the latest estimated departure time, arrival time, take-off location and landing destination.

"NXT Mobile is pleased to have been able to join forces with ACSA to launch this new and very exciting service to the South African market. With NXT Flights, all the flight information is at your fingertips and the thought of missing a flight or hanging around at airports due to delays is a thing of the past," says Bryan Diamond, MD of NXT Mobile.

The NXT Flights service supports all local and international airlines and major airports and each SMS costs R3.00.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>