

Washington Post* suspends journo for posting an article about Kobe Bryant's rape case

The Daily Mail reports that the Washington Post has suspended one of its journalists after she tweeted a link to an article about a rape case related to Kobe Bryant.

Felicia Sonmez posted the link to the article - dated April 2016 story from the news site The Daily Beast, which carried the headline: 'Kobe Bryant's Disturbing Rape Case: The DNA Evidence, the Accuser's Story, and the Half-Confession' - soon after the news of Bryant's death.

Bryant was accused of rape in 2003 by a 19-year-old employee at a Colorado hotel prior to a scheduled knee surgery.
