

International rose garden for SAA Cape Town flower show

Award-winning international garden designer David Stevens is to bring the first international show garden to this year's South African Airways Cape Town Flower Show, which takes place 26 - 29 October 2006. His 'Contemporary English Rose Garden' will become a permanent installation on the new show site at Lourensford. "South Africa, and the Cape in particular, is a leader in the conservation and usage of plants, which the show will be focusing on strongly. It is a privilege to be a part of it," says Stevens.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>