

Labia Cinema opens African screen

The Labia Theatre at Orange Street in Gardens, most probably Cape Town's oldest independently run cinema, will this week open "The African Screen@The Labia", permanently dedicated to the showing of local South African feature films, documentaries and shorts, including film productions originating from other African countries.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>