

Promise Digital seeks conceptual team

Issued by Promise

5 Jun 2015

We're looking for a digital conceptual team that doesn't mind the taste of instant coffee and who can handle their tequila. Throw your brains into the blender with us and come make some awesome work with a department that's growing so fast, we're running low on shooter glasses.

Let's be honest, it's not all saving the world one rich media banner at a time, and we put love into the daily churn work too. So if you consider yourselves to be an uber digital creative team, drop us a line and let's hear the meaning behind your super deep tattoos.

Please submit CV's and portfolio to james@promisegroup.co.za.
