10 Oct 2008

Rocket Creative is proud to announce our relocation into fantastic new premises in the heart of Strijdom Park, Randburg.

The objective in moving ourselves into the best commercial area in northern Johannesburg was to position ourselves on the doorstep of our core target market, comprising the vast majority of brand building advertising agencies, brand activation companies, corporates and FMCG companies.

Our new 1200 sqm premises boasts a 120 sqm showroom which allows us to exhibit a large range of our most popular product and printed samples. Our intention was to provide an environment which allows us to demonstrate and communicate in-depth information on our range of products and services where clients can compare options and costs, and be fully informed as to the multitude of alternatives available.

With a major focus towards full service delivery our world class HP digital print infrastructure compliments our already large range of services and products, which incorporates any type of branding and product display including in-store merchandising stands and original brand activation solutions. For agencies and companies being tasked with offering their clients a host of options, Rocket Creative now offers an abundance of alternatives in a one-stop-shop environment. In the high pressure, deadline orientated nature of our industry we are proud to offer such a wide range of focussed, quality controlled services under one roof.
