

AfricaCom offers free passes for Cape Town event

The 20th AfricaCom in Cape Town in November will be tackling the hottest topics for 2017, including IoT, big data, fintech, digital health, sustainable power solutions, digital education and much more.

While the conference is predominately aimed at C-suite executives, AfricaCom's exhibition halls provide a host of free content that attracts a broad array of citizens, many of whom are looking to connect with like-minded companies and individuals and get a glimpse of what the next 'big thing' will be – digitally speaking.

Unpacking the future for technology, media and telecoms in Africa

12 Oct 2017

By registering for a free visitor ticket, which can be done online, visitors can gain access to more than 450 exhibitors, masterclasses, plus an innovation hall packed with visionary insights on future tech trends and a vibrant showcase of the latest digital products.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>