

Brightwater Commons welcomes production house, Urban Brew Studios

Urban Brew Studios, a division of Kagiso Media and one of the largest production studios in South Africa, will be opening up shop at the Brightwater Commons Shopping Centre in Randburg, Johannesburg.

The Moolman Group has been tasked with turning 10,000 square metres of the shopping complex into an ideal and modern space for the production house, which will boast office space for over 300 staff member, 12 television studios, audio post-production and compilation facilities, as well as a business centre and meeting rooms.

Urban Brew Studios will take up their new office space between September 2017 and February 2018.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>