

Michael Ware goes uncensored in new National Geographic series

The well-known war correspondent, Michael Ware, takes to National Geographic in an eight-part series titled, Uncensored with Michael Ware. The series takes Ware on explorations through various aspects of the world from New York Fashion Week to witch hunts in Papua New Guinea.

Uncensored with Michael Ware was created by the former executive editor of Newsweek, Justine A. Rosenthal and is executively produced by Peter Berg, Michael Ware, Matthew Goldberg, Brandon Carroll, and Mick Lawrence for Film 45.

Uncensored with Michael Ware premieres on 6 April 2017 at 8.05pm on National Geographic.
