

Channel director appointed for Mimecast

Email and data security company, Mimecast Limited, has appointed Jason Roos as its new channel director for the Middle East and Africa. Roos will manage all partner and alliance based engagement and has been assigned the task of establishing a renewed and energised channel program.

He previously served as executive of sales at Internet Solutions, where he managed 13 sales teams across SME, channel, mid-market and enterprise accounts.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>