

Pantone #ColorOfTheYear for 2018: Ultra Violet

Last year the Pantone colour of the year was greenery, the year before was the Rose quartz and Serenity blend, and for 2018 it's a deep, dreamy shade - Ultra Violet. Here's what it stands for.

Pantone is the global authority on colour, and at the end of each year artists, designers and stylists eagerly anticipate the shade set to feature simply everywhere in the coming months.

Welcome #Greenery, Pantone's 2017 colour of the year

According to Leatrice Eiseman, executive director of the Pantone Color Institute, 2018's Ultra Violet shade is meant to imbue qualities of “thoughtful originality, ingenuity, and visionary thinking,” as we step into the future.

The design-minded set have been sharing their views on social media:

“ The 2018 Color of the Year from @Pantone is Ultra Violet, but our textile and fashion curators point out that it's very close to mauvine, the first synthetic dye discovered in 1856, found in this American dress from 1860!
