

Raymond Ackerman receives seventh honorary degree

Pick n Pay's founder, Raymond Ackerman, has recently been awarded an Honorary Doctorate in Business by Rutgers University-Camden in the US, which becomes the entrepreneur's seventh honorary degree.

Pick n Pay's transformation director, Suzanne Ackerman-Berman, was also present at the Rutgers School of Business to deliver the commencement address to an audience of more than 2000 people, including 351 students receiving their undergraduate and graduate degrees.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>