

Vox Telecom's Braintree partners with Linkfresh

The consulting and integration division within Vox Telecom, Braintree, has confirmed its partnership with Linkfresh, a packaged business management system for the fresh food sector and a Microsoft Dynamics certified add-on package. The application has been specifically designed for companies who work in the fresh food supply chain in Africa. This partnership provides Braintree with a vertical software solution for fresh produce, protein and egg producers, ensuring a mobile and paperless environment.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>