

Puma Energy is the Flying Lions aerobatic team's new sponsor

Members of the media were treated to an aerial display at the Rand Airport in Johannesburg, which Puma Energy used to announce its sponsorship of the Flying Lions aerobatic team. The team unveiled its newly branded Harvard AT6 aircraft, which it will be showcasing throughout the year when it participates in air shows during the year.

The team comprises pilots Scully Levin, Arnie Meneghelli, Ellis Levin, and Sean Thackwray.
