

Coface appoints new country manager for South Africa

Adam Rakgalakane has been appointed country manager, chief executive officer of Coface South Africa with effect from 1 September 2014. Mr Rakgalakane has extensive experience in the insurance industry with a strong commercial and marketing background, and has a particular knowledge and understanding of the South African market and its distribution channels.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>