

2016 Architect Africa Film Festival open for entries

The Architect Africa Film Festival 2016 is calling on architects, planners, filmmakers, artists, designers and all those with an interest in creating cities, landscape and the built environment to submit their entries for the festival before 30 April 2016 via www.aaff.co.za. Building on the construct, "Feel Universal, Think Global and Act Local", AAFF2016 is looking for feature films, documentaries, webdocs, short films and multimedia projects that examine how design shapes architecture and the built environment, cultural and social innovation, new media, visual arts and digital communications, economic reality, and environmental regeneration.
