

Two new appointments for Webber Wentzel

Law Firm, Webber Wentzel, welcomes Kathryn Gawith and Alexia Christie to its team to further strengthen its TMT and dispute resolution practice. Gawith is a senior litigator with specialised knowledge in relation to auditor liability and related regulatory issues and was previously director of disputes at Norton Rose Fullbright. Christie has extensive knowledge in information technology, internet and consumer protection and previously held the position of head of legal for Africa and the Middle East, as well as Group Internet Counsel at Naspers.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>