

New managing partner for Henley & Partners

Nigel Barnes has been appointed as the new managing partner for Henley & Partners. Barnes will be tasked with managing the growth and development of Henley & Partners across South Africa.

Barnes has over 25 years in the asset management industry and previously worked at the Deutsche Bank in London and Investec Asset Management in South Africa.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>