

Rectron, Acronis partner up in distribution deal

Having been named an official partner of the international technology company, Rectron is to distribute Acronis' cloud backup solution for business in South Africa. Acronis produces backup, disaster recovery, and secure file sync, and share solutions.

Rectron will be offering Acronis resellers two different options; they can either manage the solution and customer themselves or it will help the resellers monitor their customers' backup to ensure that it is operating optimally.
