

Alan Anderson joins Bytes as development exec

Bytes Managed Solutions has appointed Alan Anderson as its new core business development executive. The appointment is in line with the company's focus on solution growth in the financial and retail environments as well as managing the NCR and CIMA business relationships.

Anderson brings with him a wealth of experience in sales and business development, having spent the last 25 years working in the ICT sectors of banking, retail, and commerce.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>