

Rand Show Live Music Concert returns for 2022

The 2022 Rand Show is bringing the Rand Show Live Music Concert back from 15-18 April.

Image supplied: Goodluck, one of the bands performing at this year's Rand Show Live Music Concert

The Live Music Concert will happen from 15 to 18 April.

"Bring a blanket, have a joyful family day out while soaking up the South African sun, listening to original South African music and sampling the delicious food and drink from our local vendors. Festival-goers will also have access to the Rand Show itself at no extra cost," says Adele Hartdegen, CEO of the Rand Show.

Concerts SA Digital Mobility Fund recipients announced

16 Mar 2022

On 15 April, the main stage will feature A-List performances from Goodluck and Mi Casa. Saturday's show sees A-Listers Shekinah and TKZee take to the stage. On 17 April, Kelly Khumalo, Doctor Victor, MXO and Mango Groove perform. And headliners on Monday, 18 April are Mafikizolo and AKA.

Juliet Harding of Goodluck says, "We've performed alongside some of the top artists in the world – such as Pharrell

Williams, Basement Jaxx, Jungle and more - and we can't wait to bring our high-energy to the Rand Show for local audiences. We know that if we keep writing great songs that can help people through all the chaos in life and if we can keep us all dancing... everything else will fall into place."

Eet Kreef Herleef! returns to the stage

14 Mar 2022

Other featured artists include Mr Keys, Boki, Early B, Barbosa and daily performances from famous local DJs.

Tickets per day for the music festival include adults over the age of 17 for R170, teens between the age of 13-16 for R85 and under 12's free provided they are accompanied by an adult with an adult ticket.

Go here to buy tickets. For more information on The Rand Show and concerts, go here.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>