

More international acts named for Synergy Live

Flux Pavilion and Dirtybird's Jphlip have been added to the line-up for Synergy Live. The two DJs will be playing on the Red Bull Synergy Live Main Stage.

Known for his massive bass heavy hits I Can't Stop and Bass Cannon, English producer and DJ Joshua Steele , aka Flux Pavilion, has risen to electronic stardom. Originally known for topping the dubstep music genre, Flux Pavilion has now expanded out into a wider range of electronic music, in which he has also excelled, with the release of debut album 'Tesla' earlier this year. Catch Flux Pavilion on the Red Bull Synergy Live Main Stage on Saturday, 29 November.

Jessica Phillippe, better known to the world of electronic music as J.Phlip, embodies that U.S West Coast Dirtybird flair that's allowed Claude VonStroke and his team to rise to prominence. She's a hard-working, dedicated lady who refuses to compromise and aims to rock the dance floor without relying on the most obvious tracks. Production-wise, she's just as fearsome, lacing her tracks with a tough-yet-bouncy flavour. Her prowess in both disciplines combined with her infectious sense of fun and mind-boggling depth of knowledge make her one of the most revered DJs on the global circuit today.

Check out www.facebook.com/synergylive or www.facebook.com/SiriusCapeTown for forthcoming artist announcements, info and line-ups.

TICKET INFO

Early Bird - 3 day full Weekend Tickets R 495

Full price, 2 day and 1 day tickets to be released shortly.

Get your tickets and ticketing info at www.webtickets.co.za