

Rock in my Taal to rock Carnival City

In April 2015, Francois van Coke kicked off his solo career with a bang with the launch of his self-titled debut solo album. What followed can only be described as a year of unbounded success with numerous number ones, sold out shows, awards and shattered records left in its wake. Van Coke's second solo album titled, 'Hierdie is die lewe' was released two months ago and again he is making waves with the success.

Due to public demand, Van Coke and his band (Die Gevaar) will share the stage with Die Heuwels Fantasties, Saarkie, National Incident and The Sweet Resistance in Rock in my Taal, the Afrikaans rock event of the year. Rock in my Taal will take place in Carnival City's Big Top Arena on Saturday, 20 May at 20:00. Bookings can be made at Computicket on 0861 915 8000 or you can visit the Computicket website. Groups of more than 10 will receive substantial discounts; please phone Lefra on 011 815 3000, or send an e-mail. For more information, visit the Lefra website. The concert is made possible with the friendly co-operation of Carnival City, Stuttford Van Lines, RSG and Sounds Good.
