

Budweiser's DJ search winner DJ Nkanyezi to perform at Ultra SA

The winner of Budweiser's King of Decks DJ competition, DJ Nkanyezi will be performing at this year's Ultra South Africa - which forms part of his prize. He will perform at Ultra SA's Main Stage, in Johannesburg on 29 February, alongside some of the world's best DJ's including Afrojack, Black Coffee, DJ Snake and Steve Aoki.

Launched in December, the resulting flood of entries via Soundcloud were narrowed down to the top three finalists by judges DJ Oskido, DJ Sabby and Durban Gogo. The DJ finalists (Candii, Zelco and Nkanyezi) then battled against each other live on YFM's The Best Drive show on Friday, with a popular listeners' vote deciding the winner.

“ A big s/o to everyone who joined our search for the #KingoftheDecks 💎💎 But only one can take home the crown and rock the @UltraSA main stage 💎💎 @NkanyeziKubheka - are you ready to give the people the set they deserve? pic.twitter.com/uq9lVZjY3n— Budweiser SA (@BudweiserSA) February 24, 2020 ”

“Winning the King of Decks is a real dream come true. To have the chance to show what I'm made of at the biggest music festival in Africa, on the same stage as so many DJ legends, is a once in a lifetime opportunity. I am ready to #BeAKing and show them how we do it Mzansi style,” said DJ Nkanyezi, a Durban-born, Joburg-resident house DJ.

Says Estee Burger, Budweiser marketing manager: “We are thrilled to be a part of identifying and supporting the kings of culture and to enable DJ Nkanyezi to showcase his amazing talent at Ultra alongside the very best in the industry. The prize also includes an abundance of other opportunities from Budweiser to further help develop his career. As we always say ‘Kings step up and seize their opportunity.’”
