

Cape Town International Airport best airport in Africa

At the World Travel Awards Africa, which took place in Rwanda earlier this week, Cape Town International Airport (CTIA) was voted Africa's Leading Airport.

Deon Cloete, CTIA general manager said: "Cape Town International Airport is delighted to have received this accolade as it recognises the commitment to excellence shown by the whole of Airports Company South Africa and this particular airport in the last 12 months."

Airports Company SA grows full-year revenue 3.84%

Karl Gernetzky 19 Sep 2017

Cloete said October marked the start of the peak season when seasonal carriers launched their summer schedules.

Other nominees included:

- Cairo International Airport, Egypt
- Jomo Kenyatta International Airport, Nairobi
- Julius Nyerere International Airport, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania
- Kigali International Airport, Rwanda
- King Shaka International Airport, Durban, South Africa
- Mohammed V International Airport, Morocco
- O.R. Tambo International Airport, Johannesburg, South Africa