Popular and well-known television and radio presenter Stacey Norman has joined East Coast Radio and will be presenting the station's Sunday show between 10am and 2pm, as from 15 October.

Stacey, who started her radio career when just 15 years old after participating in a KFM talent search, has been in the industry for more than a decade. Most recently she was the host of Stacey Norman Live, a brunch-time show on 947. Stacey is also well known for her on screen role as the co-host of the South African television music competition, The Voice South Africa, on M-Net.

The stylish, sussed and sassy Stacey says, "Radio is in my blood and after honing my craft for 11 years, I'm thrilled to be a part of the ECR family. I've always said that the audience is my co-host so expect lots of laughs, plenty of tunes and to inherit a new bestie!"

East Coast Radio's Programming Manager, Zane Derbyshire, has welcomed Stacey to the team, "Finding a radio presenter as natural as Stacey is rare. She is a brilliant conversationalist and engages easily with listeners and guests. I'm sure the East Coast Radio listeners will love her and she'll soon become a firm favourite with them."

Don't miss Stacey Norman every Sunday between 10am and 2pm. Her razor sharp wit and out-there observations will have you cackling with laughter and clamouring to keep up.
