

Game of Thrones* actor offers opinion on final season remake

The final season of Game of Thrones has left many fans infuriated. A petition was made to remake the final season, even when the season wasn't in full circle.

Actor Kristofer Hivju, who plays Tormund Giantsbane in the show, spoke to CNN and gave his opinion on remaking the final season.

He said "I am happy with the ending but that is the essence of Game of Thrones, people should be discussing everything, and people should be doubting everything because it's unexpected. When you have a TV show where you kill the main character in the first season then everything can happen, and Game of Thrones doesn't follow the rules of storytelling it follows the rules of life. I think the passion is fantastic but there will never be a remake, what we've made is what we've made and I'm very proud of it."
