Industry thought leaders will discuss pertinent issues for investors and capital providers, including the policy and the business environment impacting REITs, ESG, advocacy and emerging trends for the sector locally and abroad. Through high-profile keynote speakers and several panel discussions, the programme plans to offer multifaceted perspectives on REITs' latest pressures and innovations.

Says Joanne Solomon, CEO of the SA REIT Association: "While the pandemic exacerbated South Africa's underlying economic weakness, and much rests on an improvement in economic conditions, it is encouraging to witness how SA's REITs – which are a key contributor across the whole South African economic value chain – have demonstrated a commitment to the country and fully assume their role in ensuring that we rebuild our future together."
