

Blockchain Africa conference secures Brazilian sponsor

Bitcoin is changing the financial world as we know it, so the practical and easy-to-use applications based on blockchain technology to use the digital currency as a payment, funding transfer and receive vehicle is important to understand.

This will be what CoinBR chairman, Rocelo Lopes will be speaking about at the Blockchain Africa Conference taking place in Johannesburg from 1-3 March 2017.

CoinBR is a bitcoin mining and exchange company based in São Paulo, with remote offices in Singapore and Cape Town, and is the only Brazilian company buying and selling bitcoin without applying administrative fees. The company has come on board as the second official premier sponsor for the conference.

Blockchain Africa brings together a diverse range of local and international experts who will discuss all the challenges and exciting possibilities in innovation and disruption that can be leveraged in Africa using this blockchain technology. Buy your ticket for the conference here.
