

New elections for the World Editors Forum

Erik Bjerager, editor-in-chief and MD of the Danish national daily Kristeligt Dagblad, has been re-elected president of the World Editors Forum for a second two-year term.

Marcelo Rech, the director of journalism at the RBS Group in Brazil, was elected vice president of the organisation.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>