

Still time to enter 2015 Automobile Advertising of the Year

USA: There is still time to enter the 2015 Automobile Advertising of the Year, which has extended its entry deadline to 10 November 2014. Entrants can submit their best work for automotive clients in television, online video, interactive, experiential and print. Work that aired or will air between 1 October 2013 and 1 December 2014 is eligible for this year's awards. This year's judging panel includes John Butler from BSSP, Liz Paradise from McKinney, Dave Damman from Carmichael Lynch, Tim Vaccarino from Mullen and other creative experts who will select the winners, who will be presented onstage at the North American International Auto Show in Detroit in January 2015.
